Dear Students,

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the York College community. We look forward to working with you as you pursue your goals and grow to become successful professionals and good citizens.

York College’s academic departments are organized into three schools, the School of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business and Information Systems, and the School of Health Sciences and Professional Programs. Within the academic departments and schools, award-winning faculty, scholars, researchers and teachers design courses and degree programs to prepare students for exciting and rewarding lives. They are also mentors and advisors preparing and challenging their students to excel in their chosen fields of study.

I would like to invite you to learn about the academic programs and discuss them with your advisor, department faculty, and your friends and family to find the major and minor that excites and interests you. I would also like to recommend that you take advantage of the many co-curricular activities that are organized and held on campus by faculty, departments, schools and student clubs to enrich your experience at York. You can attend and participate in athletic games, seminars, presentations, music and theater performances, art exhibitions, research, and more.

Take time as well to learn of the college services available to students that will help you achieve your goals at York. From being advised and registering for courses, to applying for scholarships and fellowships, to participating in research and related activities that can earn you awards and prizes. ALL OTHER TIMES  9am - 5pm

The Academic Advisement Center is dedicated to furthering the educational mission of York College by assisting students to be academically successful. Academic advisors support students to successfully transition to the College, explore life and career goals and develop an academic plan. Academic advisement is a collaborative teaching relationship among academic advisors, students, faculty and the College community. Advisors support students to become self-directed learners and persist to graduation and beyond.

WHO IS ADVISED IN THE ADVISEMENT CENTER?

• All entering Freshmen and Transfer students who have not declared a major are advised by the Academic Advisement Center.
• Continuing students who have not declared a major or are non-degree students should seek advisement from the Academic Advisement Center.

• Make decisions related to their academic careers at York College.
• Understand graduation requirements, and how they impact the choice of courses.
• Develop an academic plan for persisting to graduation.
• Teach students how to use DegreeWorks to keep track of their progress toward graduation.

continues on next page
• Understand York College programs, policies, procedures and resources.
• Explore various majors, and where they can lead after graduation.
• Assist transfer students who have not declared a major and students with declared majors to connect with the appropriate advisors in their major departments.

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS

In the Academic Departments, faculty advisors are available to meet with students to discuss the courses necessary to earn a degree in the major chosen and declared by the student. Faculty advisors can also assist you in exploring life goals, values, abilities, interests and limitations.

WHO IS ADVISED IN THE ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS?

• Entering Transfer students who have declared a major meet with their major department for advisement.
• All Continuing Students who have declared a major must contact the department to arrange for an appointment with a faculty advisor to discuss their degree requirements.

NOTE: PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS

For students who are interested in a professional program, such as Nursing, Occupational Therapy, Physician Assistant, Social Work, or Teacher Education, these professional programs require a separate application and screening process before being accepted and declaring the major. Application and fulfillment of requirements are not a guarantee of acceptance to these programs. Applicants must keep in mind the highly competitive nature of the admissions process.

HOW DO I CHOOSE A MAJOR?

REVIEW THE LIST OF MAJORS Familiarize yourself with all of the majors offered at York College. You are sure to identify those majors that you would like to explore further, and conversely, those majors that do not appeal to you. Review the York College Bulletin for more information about each of these possible majors, and to review admission and graduation requirements.

ATTEND INFORMATION SESSIONS Take advantage of the information sessions and open houses held by many departments each semester that discuss not only how to apply, but also research, internship, and career opportunities.

TAKE A FEW INTRODUCTORY COURSES Taking an introductory course is a great way to explore an area of interest. Review each semester’s course offerings for examples of introductory classes that look interesting and might be related to your list of potential majors. Please note that some majors do not open their courses to students who have not been formally accepted to their programs, and as such, it may not be possible to enroll in introductory courses in these majors.

ASSESS YOUR ACADEMIC STRENGTHS  Many majors have competitive admissions criteria. Are you doing well in coursework required by programs that interest you? Your performance in required prerequisite courses can help inform your choice in major. It is helpful to discover early on whether you enjoy and do well in these subjects.

MEET WITH AN ACADEMIC ADVISOR IN THE ADVISEMENT CENTER (ROOM 2C01)  Since they are familiar with all of the majors that York College offers, academic advisors can, among other things, help you compare majors. They can also serve as a great partner in your overall process of choosing a major.

VISIT CAREER SERVICES (ROOM 3M01)  Although majors and careers are not the same thing, career counselors are experienced at helping students explore their passions and interests, which can be useful in both career and academic planning. Career Services may also have assessments to help you learn more about yourself. Being able to conceptualize and talk about aspects of your personality may help you identify your academic interests more clearly.

TALK WITH FACULTY ADVISORS FROM MAJORS YOU WANT TO EXPLORE  Faculty advisors are some of the best resources on campus because their knowledge of their department ranges from minute details about degree requirements, faculty, and courses to broad intellectual issues of theory and philosophy. They can help you form a better picture of the field, major, and faculty.

USE THE “WHAT IF” TOOL ON DEGREEWORKS  The “What If” feature allows you to “try on” a major by applying the courses you’ve already completed to the majors offered at York College.

SPEAK TO STUDENTS ENROLLED IN THE MAJOR  To get the ultimate insider’s view, talk with other students. Find out what drew them to the major, what they hope to do in the future, and what the good opportunities are.

HOW DO I DECLARE A MAJOR?

Complete a Declaration of Major/Minor form, which can be found on the York College website (www.york.cuny.edu/registrar/registrars-form/change-of-major-form1a/view), or obtained from the Office of the Registrar. In any given semester, students have 21 days from the first day of classes of the current term to change and/or declare a major/minor. If this form is received on or after the 22nd day of the term, the major/minor will become effective for the following semester.

In addition to the classroom and lab instruction and PT, Cadets participate in one Field Training Exercise (FTX) over a weekend per semester. Cadets receive more in-depth training on subjects covered in class and lab. In addition, they are given the opportunity to go to a rifle marksmanship range, rappel, and train with Cadets from neighboring schools.

Jumpstart is a national early education organization that recruits and trains college students and community Corps members to serve preschool children in low-income neighborhoods. Our proven curriculum helps children develop the language and literacy skills they need to be ready for kindergarten, setting them on a path to close the achievement gap before it is too late.

Jumpstart brings together Corps members and preschool children in low-income neighborhoods to help these children develop the language and literacy skills they need to be successful in school, setting them on a path to close the achievement gap before it is too late. This school year, 816 college students from fifteen university partners will work with over 2,000 preschool children in New York City, New Jersey, and Connecticut.

Jumpstart Corps members at York College are a diverse group of students who have accepted the role as a caring, committed adult shaping the lives of preschoolers. Balanced with full-time academic schedules, part-time jobs, and family obligations, students give 300 hours of service at a local preschool, building literacy and language skills and supporting the socioemotional needs of young children as they enter kindergarten. Service is directed in the South Jamaica community, joining nearby students at St. John’s University in reaching more preschool children in Queens.

Jumpstart-York College currently serves children in Public School #48, Public School #40, and South Jamaica Center for Children and Parents Head Start Program by having Corps members deliver a research-based curriculum twice a week within classrooms.

In addition to providing services in the classroom our Corps members as well as, volunteers participates in community-based events in efforts to serve more children in the Jamaica community. Some of our past events included bringing together community members and local organizations in efforts to build a library in the South Jamaica Community Center and, host large scale literacy workshops for children and parents at the local libraries. In light of making a huge impact in the Jamaica community, Corps members are also becoming better leaders, connecting with the community and, pursuing a career in public service.

We also continued a partnership with Jamaica Neighborhood Center in placing students for fieldwork opportunities under the Social Work and Psychology departments.

The York College Women’s Center

We provide supportive services for the growth and development of women as they pursue academic and life-long goals. In addition we provide resources and support for women to empower themselves and others. These services are available to students, alumni, faculty, staff and the surrounding community regardless of gender, age, ethnicity or religion.

Our programs include:

Girl Talk  This informal round table is a safe haven for all to express their feelings on issues that affect women. Participants can discuss topics that are relevant and currently affecting them. The discussion is open to any and all college members. Some past issues that have garnered very lively debates included: domestic violence, cat-calling, and affirmative consent.

The Women of Excellence Leadership Workshop
We partner with successful women from various fields of study and bring them to the York College community to share their experiences with our students. We hope that these women will empower, encourage, support—and most of all—mentor young women as they assume leadership roles both in college and in society.

The Women’s History Month Colloquium
The Women’s History Month Colloquium, which takes place in March, is a full-scale event with notable guest speakers and panelists. It is open to the entire student population and is all about mentorship, leadership and empowerment.

The Women’s Empowerment Film Series
Each month a film by and about women is presented depicting women’s struggles and triumphs on a global scale. These films have tackled such issues as: equal educational opportunities for girls, religion and feminism, and the challenges faced by female war veterans.

The Book Club
For students interested in literary pursuits, the Book Club enhances York’s already rich curriculum with books covering provocative topics that students get together as a group to discuss.

The Women’s Health Initiative
In addition to addressing issues regarding women’s health, the Women’s Center also actively participates in charitable endeavors such as: the Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Walk and the Kidney Walk, and the Endometriosis and Diabetes Walks, to name a few. Participation in these events not only raises money for these organizations but also raises awareness for women’s health issues with regards to these diseases.

As always, all members of the student body, men and women, are welcome to participate in any and all of the women’s center’s activities and events.
