Celebration Address

Durrell Malik Washington, Sr., BS, MSW, PhD Candidate

York College '2017 Alumnus

Durrell Malik Washington, Sr. is a native of the Bronx New York and a York Cardinal for life!

Durrell Malik Washington Sr. is incoming Assistant Professor in Rutgers University School of Social Work. Scholar Durrell is an abolitionist, an educator, author and an interdisciplinary social scientist trained as an interpretive methodologist and critical social work scholar. His research examines the collateral consequences of youth incarceration—exploring how incarceration impacts not only young Black people but also the broader systems they belong to, including their families, communities, and social networks. Through this work, he aims to build theory and inform policies and practices that foster positive and equitable outcomes for formerly incarcerated Black youth and their families.

Before joining the faculty at Rutgers his academic journey includes earning his PhD from the University of Chicago School of Social Work, Policy, and Practice (at the time of his keynote he will be 9 days away from his dissertation defense and 10 days from Graduation), an MSW from Columbia University School of Social Work with a concentration in Policy practice and contemporary social issues, and a Bachelor's in Social Work with a Minor in Sociology from from York College, City University of New York where he was the former Vice President of the Social Workers, Empowering, Encouraging Together (S.W.E.E.T.) Club and active member of the Male Initiative Program.

During his Doctoral Studies, Scholar Durrell has won numerous awards and fellowships including a Council of Social Work Education Minority Fellow, a American Society of Criminology Ruth D. Peterson Fellow and Becoming the first person to ever be inducted as a fellow for the Society for Social Work and Research (a distinction Usually made for early and mid career faculty) While just an emerging leader.

The Chi Sigma MSW chapter of Phi Alpha National Honor Society for Social Work was chartered on February 23, 2018, to provide a closer bond among social work scholars and promote humanitarian goals and ideas. On February 22, 2023, the International Office of Phi Alpha Honor Society for Social Work confirmed extending the Chi Sigma chapter to include scholars enrolled in the York College Bachelor of Science (BS) in Social Work Program. Phi Alpha fosters high standards of education for social workers and invites into membership those who have attained excellence in scholarship and achievement in social work. Membership is for life.

*To receive Phi Alpha National Honors, scholars must earn a 3.5 GPA or higher for at least one term of their program.

Social Work

Alumnus Spotlight

Foyzul Ahmed is a 1991 alumnus of York College Baccalaureate of Science Social Work Program. He went on to complete his Masters of Social Work in Clinical Social Work at New York University, Silver School of Social Work in 1992, then went on to become an LCSW-R.

Mr. Ahmed has been serving the Veteran population since 1998. He interned there for his degree and started working there after graduation. In his various roles he has provided outreach to homeless veterans, been a liaison with the City, State and Federal Agencies, provided direct care through individual and group therapy, conducted evaluations of incoming veterans to the PTSD clinic, recruited instructors as the coordinator of the SW Graduate training program, supervised scholars in practicum, and in 2020- he took on the additional responsibility of private practice.

Currently Mr. Ahmed is the clinical social worker at the VA's outpatient Mental Health Clinic and still maintains his role as the coordinator of the SW Graduate Training Program as well as coordinator of the Evidence Based Psychotherapies. Mr. Ahmed also finds time to give back and has done extensive social and philanthropical work in Bangladesh, inspired by the work of his father Gous Ahmed. He and his family have been committed to promoting the prosperity of women through higher education. His father established many schools for girls in Bangladesh, he and his family manage, run and sponsor an elementary school, high school, and college with almost 3400 students attending. The family also has an anti-hunger project, safe-water project and housing project to obtain better housing for those in need.

Social Work has been essential to the City University of New York, York College since 1985. Housed within the School of Health Sciences and Professional Programs, the Department of Social Work offers undergraduate and graduate programs. Over the past decade, the Baccalaureate of Science in Social Work Program has consistently ranked among the top three (3) popular programs at York College based on degrees awarded. In 2022, the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) Board of Accreditation (BOA) reaffirmed the baccalaureate social work program under the 2015 Educational Policy Accreditation Standards (EPAS) for eight (8) years. Established in 2017, The Master of Social Work (MSW) Program at CUNY York College, is the first accredited graduate social work program in Queens County, New York, and was reaffirmed by the CSWE BOA under the 2022 EPAS, also with no conditions until 2033.
