

Department of Foreign Languages, ESL & Humanities

Open House

November 9th, 2008

AC-3C08 & AC-3D05

Presentation by: Samuel Ghelli & Samia Ouederni

Objectives

- Prepare students to understand, read, speak and write a second language
- To give them an understanding and appreciation of the literature and civilization particular to that language
- To provide them with a comparative element that will enable them to improve communication skills in their own language

Divisions:

- Foreign Languages
- ESL (English as Second Language)
- Humanities
- CLIP (CUNY Language Immersion Program)

Foreign Languages

- Chinese
- Creole
- French
- Italian
- Spanish

Foreign Languages, ESL & Humanities

Majors (BA) Credits	Minors Credits	Special Programs Credits
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •French (36) •Spanish (36) •Spanish (39-42) (PreK-6/Elem. Cert./Bilingual Ed. Extension) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Creole (15) •Italian Studies (15) •French & Francophone Studies (15) •Latin American Studies (15) •Puerto Rican Studies (15) •Spanish (15) •Women Studies (15) •World Literature (15) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •English as Second Language (8) •Latin American Studies (Concentration) (21) •Puerto Rican Studies (Concentration) (21) •Teaching Certification in Spanish 7-12 (26-27) •Certificate Program in Spanish for Professional Purposes (18)

Language Lab

- The instructional programs is enhanced by a state of the art digital Language Laboratory and web supported materials
 * *
- Tutoring *, media center *

The department sponsors annual events

- Poetry contest *
- Student journals *
- International film festivals *
- Conference and colloquia *
- Clubs
- Students & faculty meet up *

Study Abroad & Exchange Programs

- Study Abroad programs may be semester-long, year-long, or short-term (summer or winter inter-session)
- Financial assistance, such as federal student loans and Pell grants, may be available *