Who will emerge as the Democratic Party nominee for President in 2020? In light of the fact that there are currently 25 candidates seeking the Democratic nomination, some people have concern that the persons who view themselves as members of the Democratic Party will be able to get:

- a. a candidate who can win in 2020 on the election ballot as the Democratic Party candidate for president.
- b. the candidate who truly represents the complex views of Democratic Party on the ballot.
- c. the best of the candidates on the ballot.

If you could redesign the system of picking a candidate for the Democratic Party for President, what system would you put in place?
