1. Give as many examples as you can think of, situations where voting or elections occur. (What are some recent examples of voting in the US, Great Britain, and European Union?)
  - a. What are common properties of these situations?
  - b. How are these situations different from each other?
2. What are the features of a voting situation or election that "define" the situation as one involving voting or being an election?
3. What are some fairness issues involved with voting and elections?
4. Describe some of the voting/election systems with which you are familiar.
5. What requirements should be made for a person to vote in an election?
